A Relationship with Christ Dissolving the Special Relationship Belief

Set up: Do Light Trance and Relaxation. Talk about their beliefs of God.

And I wonder, Have you ever considered, how God has assigned you, a certain role for you to play in this world? And how at the deepest level of existence, your salvation depends upon, accepting the role you have been given? Please give yourself some time to contemplate this possibility as well as all the implications it may have in your life you accept this. And while you relax and allow your inner consciousness to ponder this, it may be helpful to remember, that when God gave you your assignment – you were also given, all the strength you need, to achieve it. Please take a moment now to absorb this at the deepest levels of your inner truth, for I know, that many of us, have forgotten – that our Creator, when he created us - also created, a plan for our salvation, and despite what form it appears to take in our life, if we have faith and let it guide us, His Plan for us will only bring us good.
